

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

We have an excellent system in place that is working well.

I have received no unwanted phone calls, down from at least 1-2 per day.

My quality of life and my time with my family has improved because of our state's law.

It would be a huge mistake, typical of large government, to lessen the extent of Indiana's law.

Do the right thing, don't make any changes.
